

BLIZZARD PLAYS HA VOC

STORM HITS ALBERTA IN BITING FURY

Wind of Cyclonic Proportions Spreads its Withering Blow All Over Southern Part of Province in Worst Weather Conditions of 20 Years.

CALGARY, Alta., April 21.—Spreading out over the prairie with its biting snow and gusts of cyclonic proportions, Alberta's worst blizzard in 20 years cut loose in Alberta yesterday and maintained its fury in only slightly diminished proportions today. It was out of the northwest sections where heavy snowfall and rain alternated as the storm lashed through the brush country of the foothills and in an easterly direction toward Saskatchewan where dust storms prevailed the previous 24 hours.

Telephone and telegraph poles were bent and wires were scattered on the ground. Drifts of snow piled three and four feet high in some places, and cattle to cover. Fear prevalent for the safety of herdsmen who were turned loose on the open range after several days of drifts, caused the government to issue a warning of racing all day Wednesday with only a leavening as a result. The prairie road to the south was filled with flying soil and dust, that was reported to have reached a height of 10 feet in some places.

Everywhere people turned blindfolded eyes to the grey skies in search of the sun. The blizzard which had been blowing in Southern Saskatchewan did the same thing. A "good" soaking rain fell in the Palmer district near Gravelbourg, last night, farmers were in the Gleichen district in the northern parts of the province as well as in the Gleskin district in the south.

Traffic, both auto and street car, was brought to a standstill in Calgary.

The Grand Canyon is over to the northwest. Herds of antelope and deer with blue trees you see a modern landscape. The country looks like a desert, but there are green trees and flat yellow boards.

Half the country is in this country more than a bill board. It is not used except for hunting. There is little grazing. If intelligence comes to us, we may well outgrow the country. We will outgrow the country. Re-

Provost Folk Own Bible Claimed As Oldest in Canada

Book Printed by Roger
Daniel 280 Years Ago
Still Exists

Exhibit in Edmonton Museum
PROVOST, April 21.—In an article in a Toronto newspaper last week it was stated that H. H. Harvey, Whiting, Ont., owned the oldest bible in Canada, but at the present time Mr. Harvey and his wife of Provost are the proud possessors of a bible they claim to be much older than that.

The article, it reads, "Printed by Roger Daniel, printer to the University of Cambridge, 1648," so that it is 280 years old. It is 16 inches long and 10 inches wide. It is their most treasured possession, having been passed down from father to son in the Gable family. It was brought across the water from England in 1648 and has remained ten years ago.

QUINT OLD COPIE

In the same set volume, on the title page are pen marks, representing a little sum in arithmetic. The year given is 1648, but it is possible someone had evidently deducted 1648 from 1648 to get 1648. The book was at that time 180 years old and that was 95 years ago when quill pens were still in use.

When that bible was a year old, King Charles the First was beheaded before the scaffold, and the Puritans in the city of the Provost never forgave him for it. That is dependable testimony to the skill and integrity of Roger Daniel, who with care and labor, did a good task, in all probability making his own type and ink, and, in addition, put a piece of work that has stood for nearly 300 years, a record that would be hard to beat.

FOUND IN MOROCCO

The volume, which is firmly bound in worn, yellowed cover, contains the Old and New Testaments, a hymn book described as "The whole book of Psalms, with the New Testament," by Thomas Sternhold, John Hopkins and others.

Indeed, this old bible is noteworthy in many respects. It is set in very large, bold, clear letters. That was later known as either Elbridge or Pearl. Being hand cut, it is excellent. A non-religious, non-practical reader may get an approximate idea by noting that the number of lines in each of the two pages used in real small print today. The type page contains 2,200 words to a page. The "shop" style is in complete with the exception of the first few lines of a new hour would be good typesetting for an expert of today, each of which took at least 5 hours to set, so that no less than 10,000 hours were used in composition alone.

Maple Creek Claims

Book Printed in 1584.

MAPLE CREEK, Saskatchewan, April 21.—Rural Dean F. C. Mackant of that city, has a Bible which he believes was printed in 1584. Its ownership is traced to him by Thomas Sternhold, John Hopkins and others.

Mr. Mackant's Bible was printed by Christopher Barker, "Printer to the University of Cambridge, 1648," and uses the old-fashioned "s" that looks like a "f".

In the case of the Whiting Bible, the covers are of wood covered with leatherette. The leatherette is black with gold initials. The book is 180 years old.

It is evident that this old family Bible and contains a good many names of the family. It is bound in Mabell Windsor, Jr., daughter of Peter and Anna, and baptised February 1, 1648.

Wife Contradicts Evidence Given In Suit For Divorce

Father of defendant in a suit for divorce filed by a husband and his private detective was made by Mrs. Edna May McEachern before Chief Justice Justin J. Simonson in Supreme court on Wednesday afternoon when her husband, Dr. James McEachern, sued for a divorce.

In support of his case the husband said that his wife had engaged in misconduct to him in 1928 a few months after he married and that his wife had been a prostitute during that period.

The young wife, giving her evidence yesterday, denied that she had ever been a prostitute and contradicted both to charges.

She said that her husband in 1928 told her during the night that he had been with a prostitute and that he had asked her in her sleep whether she had been with a man or a woman with a visitor, and that in her sleep she said she had answered "yes."

"I am telling the truth to my husband in the whole of our married life," she said. "I have never lied about the truth of the alleged admission in his sleep."

To another question, the young woman said that she was not in the habit of lying to her husband, but was with her parents' farm at Bremerton. She also said that while she had been a prostitute in 1928, she was at 11 at the 10th street house, that the room was situated on the north side of the street.

A number of witnesses have been summoned to give evidence before who will be heard when the case is resumed on Thursday morning.

Fracas In Country Store Is Subject Of Civil Action

A fracas in a country store between two farmers, who has already been before the magistrate's court, is now the subject of a civil action for damages in the Supreme Court. Paul K. Kuehner, 30, of Lethbridge, has entered suit against John S. Anderson, 42, of Mitchell's farm, for $200 damages, and against the Hudson's Bay Co. for $100 damages for an injury to the bridge of his nose, received at a fracture house store on July 21.

Of the total sum $100 was paid as actual damages, $20 as legal fees and $100 as special damages. Plaintiff's attorney, W. E. Johnson, said proceedings say that he struck Kuehner only after Kuehner had insulted him and that he was compelled to impale him by Magistrate Gore Hickman.

RUGBY LEAGUE MATCHES

LONDON, April 21.—In rugby league action, the London Rams defeated the Bradford Bulls 19-0 and Hanworth Bears 19-0 to move to 10-1 and 10-2 respectively.

At the same time, the White City Rovers, who are 10-2, beat the West Ham United 19-0 to move to 11-2.

Opinion that an increase in utility rates was "pure folly," was expressed by one of the utilities.

John D. H. Allyn stated that he did not believe these surcharges were justified, but that he would be willing to pay them if he could be assured of the return of utility rates.

Ad. Kellie contended that the utility rates were the same as other taxpayers.

He was of the opinion that if a reduction in utility rates could be raised then he suggested a round-table conference between the manufacturers and the various civic departments to further reduce the estimated rates.

He recommended a rate of 32 mills per unit, which would be 10% less than the present rates.

COMPENSATED TAXATION

Six months ago Britain was supposed to be financially down and out, or headed in that direction with not far to go. On Tuesday the chancellor of the exchequer was able to announce that the budget for the year showed a surplus of nearly $40,000,000. A similar balance is expected for the year coming. The credit of course belongs to Lord Snowden, not to Mr. Chamberlain.

There is to be no reduction in taxation. On the contrary, some new taxes may be imposed. But as compensation for the greater demands made upon him, the British tax-payer has the satisfaction of knowing that the financial situation it has been for years, that industry and trade are growing while in other countries they are declining, and that his opportunity to earn his high taxes, with something to show for himself, is better and getting better.

Canadian tax-payers would be reconciled to the tax increases imposed upon them last year and this year by the federal and provincial governments. Too could see that as a result of government policy the times were getting better. The fact is that so far no national trade policy has affected the situation it appears to have made it worse.

DITCHING THE THEORY

Salaries are going up in Soviet Russia. That is, some salaries. Last summer Mr. Stalin announced that this would have to come to pass. Men, he said, must be paid in proportion to the amount of work they do, and in proportion to the importance of the work. The communist principle of one rate of pay for all has been found impracticable. It is in fulfillment of this announcement that a scale is being established under which those hold important positions will draw higher pay than those doing manual and routine work.

One of the reasons given for this is that officials have refused to accept posts of responsibility because they received the same pay as subordinates they would receive as chiefs, without the responsibility. When men in capitalist countries, men are to be "bribed" to carry the heavy loads and do the worrying, by the offer of higher rewards.

Lenin's policy is thereby thrown in the ditch, and to each according to his needs." This would be a far different and better world if men everywhere would govern their lives by that rule. But where they do not, there is little that can be done to it by law or compulsion. Even a dictator, with the chicks and the red army as his instruments of discipline, cannot make the maxim effective. Men will only their best where there is the inducement of personal gain.

HOW THE PROVINCES STAND

Only two of the provinces of the Dominion suffered a loss of population during the last decade. Prince Edward Island recorded a loss of 577 and Nova Scotia a loss of 1,000.

Each of the others showed a gain as a result of the census taken in June last. New Brunswick registered the smallest increase, but it was far more than balanced the losses in its two neighbors. Omitting odd figures, Quebec gained 513,000 Ontario 498,000, Manitoba 90,000, Saskatchewan 164,000, Alberta 143,000, and British Columbia 169,000. The Yukon showed a gain of 113, and the territories a loss of 885.

As regards the two "halves" of the Dominion, the four western provinces report a joint total of 560,000, while the five eastern provinces gained almost 1,000,000. The notion that the west has been cutting down the lead of the older provinces is thus shown to be mistaken. It is in eastern, not western Canada, that the growth is taking place, reflected, however, in percentage gains the four western provinces have the advantage.

The reader may be interested in the exact figures for each province for the census of 1931 and that of 1921.

THE ONE CHANCE OF SUCCESS

The directors have cut the expenditure on Edmonton's summer fair to a figure 30 per cent less than that of last year. If the revenue does not fall away to the 25 per cent there will be a small balance on the right side of the ledger. Should it drop further than this, the balance will be on the wrong side.

Conditions are what they are and like it or not, it will not be pleasant to assume that revenue will shrink no more than one-quarter, even if no extra effort is made beforehand to attract attention to the exhibition. There is a strong possibility that, unless such extra effort is made, the revenue will drop to the point where it may stamp far below the dead line, and leave a deficit to add to the troubles of the city and the future difficulties of the exhibition association.

Conditions are not looking now for opportunities to spend money for pleasure. Neither will they turn out to the fair just because the venture may lose money if they stay away. In more prosperous times a good deal of money was spent on drawing a crowd, with only a minimum of advance publicity. That is no longer the case. If visitors are to be drawn in large numbers this year they will have to be drawn in with a vengeance and in a convincing way, that the pleasure and profit derived will be worth the cost.

Which is another way of saying that advertising, and plenty of it, is the only thing that can be done to prevent a loss, which might run up to proportions serious enough to imperil the future of the exhibition. Advertising costs money, and it always pays dividends if it is intelligent. It is the only way to let the public know all that needs to be done is neglect to advertise the fair widely beforehand, and then see what happens to it.

New Plan For Increase In City Treasury Is Proposed

TAX ON CITY BONDS WOULD AID REVENUE

$200,000 Could be Raised by One-half Per Cent.

Tax Council Told

Suggesting a tax of one-half cent on the tax on bonds held in the city, Mr. George Gibson, speaker at the special meeting of city council Wednesday afternoon, claimed that this source would provide a revenue of $200,000 to $300,000, which would be added to the city's bonded indebtedness of $100,000,000.

Ad. C. Gibbons said that the commissioners were asked to consider this plan, stating that the time had come when "we will have to be concerned about our financial position."

City Solicitor: Dr. J. C. P. Brown, K.C., explained that it was outside of the power of the corporation to impose such a tax on bonds.

BUDGET TAX

Ad. C. Gibbons wanted to know how the city was going to receive its tax on bonds which were held in the city, and he was told that there was no way to do this.

Mr. Gibbons' proposal to add one-half cent to the tax on bonds held in the city was referred to the committee on finance.

DISSOLUTION FORECAST BY D. M. DUGGAN

Tory Leader Considers Alberta House Will Dissolve After Next Session

Discussion of the dissolution of the legislature and the next session or after the 1934 election at the latest, was forced by D. M. Duggan, leader of the Conservative party, in addressing the members of the legislature on the legislature, in discussing plans for expanding the party's organization in the west.

The legislature already has served two sessions and it has been however, Mr. Duggan, in his statement, that the legislature would be dissolved and an appeal made to the electorate for the re-election of the Conservative party.

"In the recent session," said Mr. Duggan, "the Conservative party received an appreciation by the government of the majority of the problems confronting the province."

He charged that the government had not done enough to help the most serious situation was developing and that, while things had not yet broken beyond the control of the government to cope with it.

Mr. Duggan said he hoped that the next general election, the Conservatives would have a candidate ready to ride into the party with the best chance of success.

Province Will Supply Relief For Single Men

Communication to the effect that the provincial government will take care on its own shoulders for supplying further relief to single unemployed men here was received Thursday morning by Mayor D. K. Heads of Three Great Nations Meet at Geneva Conference for Private

FOUR POWERS SEEK SOLUTION FOR DISARMING

Sir George Perley Supports Simon Resolution Abolishing Weapons

Associated Press Cable

GENEVA, April 21.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of Britain, and President André Tardieu of France met with United States Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson today at the Swiss conference at Secretary Simon's villa shortly after the arrival of the premises from Paris, where the preparation began for the conferences of the officials of the four powers meeting in Geneva.

In the meantime the disarmament conference resumed its debate on the resolution for a complete disarmament presented yesterday by Sir John Simon, British secretary of foreign affairs. Sir George Perley, head of the Canadian delegation, supported the resolution warmly, declaring that the abolition of offensive weapons would increase the security of the world, which would be the best guarantee.

Joseph Paul-Boncour, French delegate, announced that France would be unable to accept the complete proposal in its present form.

Ambassador Stimson of the United States supported the Simon resolution as in full harmony with the U.S. previous policy. The American attitude was in no way intended to preclude the French plan for a general裁軍.

Sean Lester, chief of the Irish Free State delegation, supported St. John Simon's motion.

Nice Doggie Saves Girl From Stage Villain In Play

CANTON CITY, Colo., April 21.—All was tears at the opening of "Timon of Athens," the American Dramatic Club nearing the end of the second act of "When Blood Runs Cold or Marmaduke's Revenge."

For the first time, a person who was being chased to death by the villain portrayed by Ernest Langton, ran across the stage, shouting, "Stop! I'm not due to die now, and he would punch the villain in the jaw!" "It's a swine, it's a swine, it's a swine!" and everyone would cheer.

The shooting was getting along very well with the curtain down, and the curtain was still down, when the revolver was completed.

The dog dashed up the stage and got her dramatic art for the once and pull the fatal shot away.

The curtain went down and the stage went out to get some tidings.

The old highway, north and west from town, is Holden's road, an improvement, and will take most traffic and the gravelling is completed.

YORKTON, Sask., April 21.—Major Mervin G. Gartner of Major and Mrs. T. Bell formerly of this city, was accorded a hero's welcome at St. Peter's church. The welcome was double, coming from a textile which said that "when the Panama canal is completed, Los Angeles will be the greatest city in the world."
